705-728-4784 Ext. 2042

Join keynote speakers Dennis and Ruthan Johnson as they explain how tools and implements have evolved from 1867 to the present day tools we find in households today.

Through this presentation, participants will learn prevalent household roles in 1867 and what tools were used to complete day to day tasks, as well as how those roles and implements have evolved over time.

Celebrate Canada's 150th with an exploration of how everyday tools, implements and household items have changed from Confederation to present day!
